Authority and Purpose

Brigham Young University (BYU) regulates traffic and parking from authority granted by the Utah State Code (UC), section 41-6a-215. The purpose of adopting the Utah Code is to provide order and a safe environment for pedestrians and traffic.

BYU regulates traffic and parking matters through the Campus Traffic and Parking Committee, which is comprised of administrators, faculty, staff, and students. A BYU vice president has oversight of this committee.

BYU will deny any person permission to drive or park on campus for failure to observe BYU policy and procedures.

Definitions

BYU Campus or Campus or University

Property owned or controlled by BYU.

Employee

Non-students working full or part-time for BYU. This includes administrators, faculty, and staff.

Immobilization Device (Vehicle Boot)

A boot is a device attached to the wheel assembly of a vehicle preventing the vehicle from being operated.

Motorcycle

Motorcycles, motor scooters, minibikes, and mopeds as defined in UC 41-6a-102\(37-44\).

Motor Vehicle

Self-propelled vehicles. Motor vehicles do not include solely human-powered vehicles, motorized wheelchairs, electric personal assistive mobility devices, electrically assisted bicycles, motor-assisted scooters, personal delivery devices, or mobile carriers, UC 41-6a-102\(42\).

Parking Stall

A space enclosed by two parallel lines or a line and a curb forming an area similar to a rectangle where a motor vehicle can park within this space.

Registration

Providing legal owner or responsible party information on motor vehicles, motorcycles, etc., so BYU Parking Services can authorize access to campus parking lots.

Responsible Party

The driver or operator of a motor vehicle, motorcycle, etc. If the driver or operator cannot be identified, the registered owner of the vehicle will become the responsible party.

Rideables

Personal conveyance, such as bicycles, scooters, skateboards and other devices. Refer to the University's rideable policy.

Student

Anyone attending or enrolled at BYU, day or evening school, who audits or takes classes for credit; or anyone who has enrolled at the university but has not graduated nor officially withdrawn from school.

For campus parking purposes, you are considered a student until your diploma is posted to your transcript, which is usually between 2-6 weeks after graduation. It is the students' responsibility to check their parking status after graduation.

Students exclusively enrolled at the BYU Salt Lake Center may park in visitor parking.

Visitor

Someone who is not a current employee, current student, or the spouse of a student. Former students or employees and those enrolled only in independent study courses are also considered visitors and may park in a visitor's lot.

Parking on Campus

Agreement

Students, faculty, staff, and visitors will abide by the campus parking rules and regulations. Parking privileges do not guarantee the availability of parking on campus.

Campus Parking Map

The online campus parking map provides the commuter with the most current parking areas. Refer to this map online at map.byu.edu under the parking tab.

Employee Parking Benefits

Parking on campus is a privilege. Employees can park in employee areas, but this benefit does not extend to spouses or children of employees or any other relative. Also, employee parking privileges do not extend to teacher assistants (TAs), graduate students, or any other student on campus.

An employee can only have one of their registered vehicles active on their BYU account at a time to use their assigned parking privileges. Previously registered vehicles will remain in the inactive queue. To reactivate or add a new vehicle, you must first deactivate any current active vehicle. The employee is responsible for ensuring the vehicle they park on campus is activated on the BYU app under the "Parking" feature. Citations will follow for non-compliance with this regulation.

Student dependents of full-time employees must have the vehicle they drive registered on their student account. If the vehicle the student drives is registered to the full-time employee, the student must put this vehicle on their own account, which will automatically take the vehicle off the employee account.

Employee spouses are limited to visitor parking lots when visiting campus and must show their identification to the parking officer at the traffic control booth. Spouses may not park in employee lots.

Church service missionaries working on BYU campus are considered employees under this policy and will be granted employee parking privileges.

Guest Accommodations

Parking privileges can be requested for guests who are visiting campus. These requests must come from non-student employees. Contact Parking Services at this email: parking@byu.edu. Please include the following:

- Guest's name
- Dates of the visit
- Vehicle License plate number and the state issued
- Vehicle Make, Model, and Color

License Plates

Those wanting to park on campus need to display a valid government registration in the form of a permanent license plate or temporary license plate. License plates need to be visible and free of snow or other obstructions. Vehicles displaying no registration in the form of a permanent or temporary plate will be cited. Any attempt to cover or conceal a vehicle identification number (VIN) without a permanent plate and conceal this from an officer's view will be immobilized. BYU vehicle registrations can be kept up to date at cars.byu.edu.

Misuse of Parking Privileges

Anyone receiving more than five parking citations, paid or unpaid, in a 12-month period will receive a $200 citation for misuse of parking privileges starting with their sixth citation. All subsequent citations will also have a fine of $200 until a six-month period has passed with no parking citations. After the six-month period, any new parking citations received will correspond to the standard violation fee.

Anyone who forges, alters or falsely acquires a parking permit or privileges is subject to a $200 citation for misuse of parking privileges. Outstanding citations may affect the individual's standing with the university. Other misuse of BYU parking privileges may result in additional university disciplinary action.

Any misuse of parking privileges can result in a vehicle immobilization device (vehicle boot) placed on their vehicle. The primary purposes of a vehicle boot are to determine who is operating the vehicle, to show improper parking, and to assess fines to the violator. BYU also reserves the right to tow vehicles for non-compliance of parking privileges. See Enforcement System Section.
